2. List the countries you have come across in this activity, which you have not heard of before.
3. In pairs, choose one of these countries and list some of the things you think you might know about this country and list questions that you would like to ask about it.

Country:

Research on the internet to answer these questions and record any further interesting information that you now know.

4. In groups design an eye-catching tourist information poster about this country. It must be easy and interesting to read and persuade people to visit the country.
